

Gandhi Naked Ambition: The Truth about Gandhi's Sex Life, Thrill of the Chaste

Gandhi: Naked Ambition' written by famous historian Jad Adams will cause a lot of swirl in the public and media. It is unbelievable to learn that Gandhi slept and bathed with young girls.

Gandhi's Sex Life Examined naked with naked nubile women to test his chastity, the pre-independence prime minister of the Indian state of Travancore called him, "a most dangerous, semi-repressed sex maniac"?

Much of this material was known during his lifetime, but was distorted or suppressed after his death during the process of elevating Gandhi into the "Father of the Nation" Was the Mahatma.

Gandhi Slept and Bathed With Young Girls

With religious chastity under scrutiny, a new book throws light on Gandhi's practice of sleeping next to naked girls. In fact, he was sex-mad, writes biographer Jad Adams.

Gandhi was born in the Indian state of Gujarat and married at 13 in 1883; his wife Kasturba was 14, not early by the standards of Gujarat at that time.

The young couple had a normal sex life, sharing a bed in a separate room in his family home, and Kasturba was soon pregnant.

However, Gandhi and Kasturba's last child wasn't born until fifteen years later, in 1900.

But was there something more complex than a pious plea for chastity at play in Gandhi's beliefs, preaching has and evens his unusual personal practices (which included, alongside his famed chastity, sleeping naked next to nubile, naked women to test his restraint)? In the course of researching my new book on Gandhi, going through a hundred volumes of his complete works and many tomes of eye-witness material, details became apparent which add up to a more bizarre sexual history.

It was no secret that Mohandas Gandhi had an unusual sex life. He spoke constantly of sex and gave detailed, often provocative, instructions to his followers as to how to they might best observe chastity.

In fact, Gandhi did not develop his censorious attitude to sex (and certainly not to marital sex) until he was in his 30s, while a volunteer in the ambulance corps, assisting the British Empire in its wars in Southern Africa.

On long marches in sparsely populated land in the Boer War and the Zulu uprisings, Gandhi considered how he could best "give service" to humanity and decided it must be by embracing poverty and chastity.

At the age of 38, in 1906, he took a vow of brahmacharya, which meant living a spiritual life but is normally referred to as chastity, without which Hindus deem such a life impossible.

If Gandhi was alive today, he would be arrested for sexual abuse and put away for life as a sexual offender.
