

would put it that this will not help you as far as God is concerned!! "Look! Me Richard. Me smart boy, no?" (No)

The E.P.

Christ Jesus - - - - oh well . . . (one thing you cannot fool)

You have as many spikes as an ancient 'mace' or as the spiked sphere (the centrosome) which is crucial to mitosis (cell-division) - and which by the way "calmly" divides & "sits" one on each side of the nucleus of the cell-to-be-split! Such spikes are the obstacles to being a warm, high-minded human-being. The true process of awakening therapy is more like house-breaking a cat or explaining to an "underprivileged" child that there are good reasons why he should not casually expectorate on the carpet.

The pride of an Einstein or a Sir Julian Huxley or a C G Jung or an Erich Fromm (who ALREADY "know it all") would not endure such a process for one moment. I know.

And add the "urbane" (well armed!) third Earl Russell, Bertrand Russell, under whom I once studied briefly. Such humor, such Ajax-like "resting on a foundation of unyielding despair" (!)

And that of course suggests Sartre who has made a good thing out of plays, articles, books -- on that same "despair."

Not only are you in numerous company but, as these names show, in excellent company!

The M.

As for "envisaging the same thing in the M." Zen calls this "the transmission." Words do not "transmit" it, but negatively they can show the way. Tangents may define a curve although not one tangent is part of the curve:

In this case a spiral.

[Altho' I am a mathematician I have forgotten the word for the curve which is enveloped by the tangents. There is a word.]

Neti, neti. "Not this way." As Lao-Tse says "men love by-paths". More accurately ego seeks at every moment the easy by-path that corresponds to his inclination & makes him "pass". One must go against this tendency:

& ignore dotted alternatives.
